

Lahav Gil

Advisor, Product Development

Mr. Lahav Gil has led the product development pathway since becoming involved with the XOR founders in 2011. He has also contributed significantly to corporate strategy, successful fundraising, and loco-regional networking relationships within the med-tech ecosystem. Mr. Gil is also the former CEO of Kangaroo Group, a Toronto-based engineering firm that provides design support to budding companies. Kangaroo recently merged with StarFish Medical, and he now serves as the Vice President of Innovation. Mr. Gil's organization has been instrumental in the development of XOR's products to date.
